

Countdown Evolution

Dear Partner

Volume 1, Issue 1, 12-2-11

Through the Cisco Networking Academy program, Ball State University and Moraine Valley Community College have enjoyed helping you enrich students' lives for many years.

In the upcoming New Year, many changes are happening within the academy program. These changes are called the Academy Evolution. The Academy Evolution was created to increase the quality of the networking academy program for our students, for our educational organizations, and for the educators. This concept of the Academy Evolution is extremely beneficial and greatly needed given the plight of American education. Major structural elements of this Academy Evolution involve:

- a) Increased quality control of processes and products
- b) Restructuring of delivery
- c) Change of resource allocation

In an effort to embrace Academy Evolution and the quality that it promotes, the CATC's at MVCC and BSU have merged into a new entity called an The Academy Support Center Partnership. This Academy Support Center (ASC) is being done to more cost effectively and efficiently provide services to you.

You will be hearing more about this in the upcoming months. As your partner moving forward, we will be providing you with updates about these changes. Over the upcoming months, we will guide you through this transition to make it as successful and beneficial as possible.

As we prepare for the change, we hope that you will choose us to provide you guidance to the future.

Look for our weekly newsletters. We look forward to working with you in the future. Please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns.

Dr. Ron Kovac (765)285-1889 rkovac@bsu.edu

Kirsten Smith (765)285-1889 kirstensmith@bsu.edu

Dr. John Sands (708)974-5426 sands@morainevalley.edu

Don't Forget

To look for our weekly newsletters for information on The Academy Evolution and how The Academy Support Center Partnership can help you prepare.